

Dr. Janice Saffir Bio

Janice Saffir moved to Colorado Springs in 2007 from Kirksville, Missouri where she was Professor of Piano at Truman State University. Her performance degrees are from the University of Illinois (B.M., M.M.) and the University of Iowa (D.M.A.) She has appeared as soloist and in collaboration with instrumentalists and singers in numerous recitals, as well as several concerto performances during her career.

Both in Missouri and Colorado, Dr. Saffir's students have won competitions and performed with orchestras. She has served as clinician and adjudicator, and currently teaches privately in her home in Colorado Springs.
